FOOD safety

At Dimitra Foods, we are constantly mindful that millions of people trust us each day to provide safe, wholesome food.

Our food is very personal to us. We eat the food we make and serve it to our families as well. For our millions of consumers, plus our own families, we take food safety seriously every step of the way — from sourcing safe ingredients, to using safe preparation methods, to implementing appropriate shipping and storage. Our employees follow rigorous food-safety practices and take part in state-of-the-art training programs.

We strongly believe that ensuring food safety is everyone's responsibility.

“Nothing is more important than the safety and purity of our food.”

Black natural Olives

Black natural olives known by many names depend on the place of their origin (Volos, Amphissa, Agrinio, Stylida). They are collected mature from the trees from November to January. The Olive fruit is round-shaped with consistent texture and deep black color. They are fermented naturally, packed in wine-vinegar brine and olive oil. Mostly are used in salads or as appetizer.
